

le trinocle à bascule

A high and round shape rolls along and sways in the streets. Overhanging the onlookers here is the nonchalant inflated creature passing by.

The rocking trinocle is a very curious and gentle three-eyed creature with panoramic vision.

The animal is impish and doesn't mind extending the pleasure of a meeting until he becomes indiscreet.

Feeling awkward because of the animal's casual attitude, the four mahouts will be attempting the impossible to divert his attention. They will ridiculously dance to the sound of some ethnic music to prompt the creature to stroll again.

concretely

Four puppeteers lead, push and pull an inflated giant creature set on a rolling wagon equipped with a rocking system.

Four actors with personal voice distortion sound-system devices. They sing and chant in an invented language and mix their own musical creations in real time.

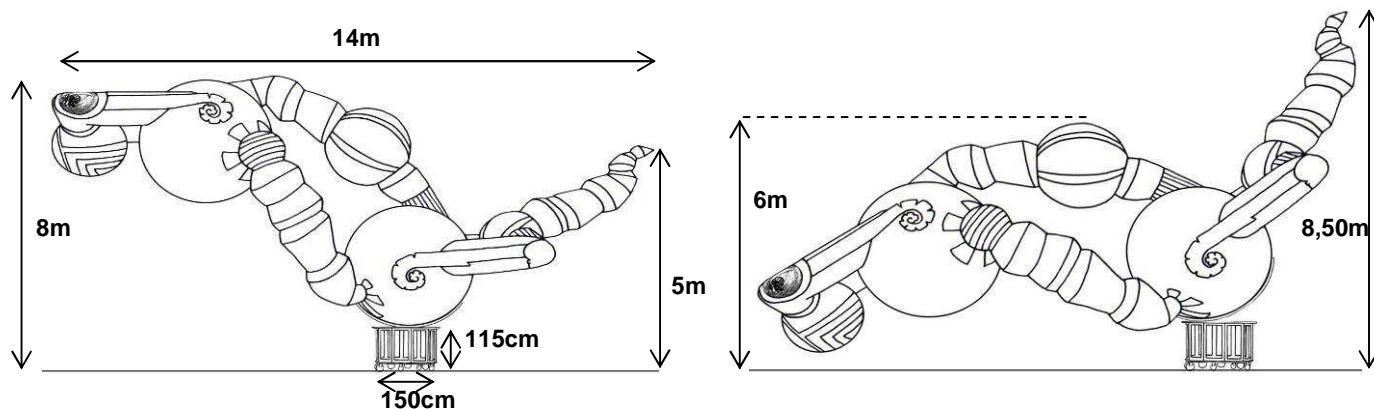

They are long-distance runners but they can perform street dances too.

A HD camera records what the trinocle can see (up to 10 meters high)

At the end of the show, we can make the recorded images available to the event organizers.
